My dear Mother
I have been thinking of you very much lately and wondering how you are getting on. I hope you are well and happy. I am feeling much better now, but I still have some pain in my back. I am going to the doctor soon. I hope you will be able to come and see me. I would love to see you very much. I am always thinking of you and hoping you are all well. I love you all very much. I am your affectionate son, John.

10 June 1880

My dear Mr. [unclear]
I have just received your letter of the 2nd inst.
and am glad to hear that you are well.
I am well and hope these few lines will find you the same. I am very busy at present but will try to write you more fully soon.
I am, dear Mr. [unclear], very truly,
Your obedient servant,
[Signature]

My dear Mr. [illegible]
I have just received your letter of the 10th inst.
and am very glad to hear from you.
I am well and hope this finds you the same.

I have been thinking much lately of the future of our country and the importance of education to the people.

I am sure that if we only teach our children the right principles, we can make a better nation.

After perusing the "Horse" I have been of the mind that the best way to get the best of the horse is to get the best of the horse by the best of the horse

Handwritten text, likely a letter or journal entry, written in cursive script. The text is heavily faded and mostly illegible. It appears to be a personal communication, possibly dated 1877, as indicated by the vertical text on the right margin. The content is too faint to transcribe accurately.

Dear Mother
I received your letter of the 14th and was glad to hear from you and all. I am well and hope these few lines will find you the same. I have not much news to write at present. I am still in the same place and doing the same work. I hope to hear from you soon.
I am, dear Mother, your affectionate son,
John Smith

After my dinner, I went to the library and found a few papers which I had written by hand.

It was very interesting to find the old papers and the old letters.
